Heavy Fines For Having Slot Machines

NEW YORK LAD CONVICTED ON TWO CHARGES

Magistrate Woodliffe imposed a fine of $100 and $12 costs, or three months imprisonment upon Howard Levere of Jackson's Point, at Newmarket Police Court on Tuesday, on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. The machines were declared to be gaming machines and were ordered confiscated together with the contents.

Constables Martindale and Wallace testified that they found three large slot machines at Laviolette's restaurant. Two were five-cent machines, and one was a twenty-five cent machine. Levere was the proprietor.

Albert Wexer of Jackson's Point, proprietor of the "Red Spot" refreshment booth, was fined $50, and $12 costs or sixty days in jail. The machines were declared to be gaming machines and were ordered confiscated, together with the contents.

Constables Martindale and Wallace testified that they found two machines in operation on the premises of accused.

Albert Vanstone of Cannington, charged by Constable McCullum with drunk driving, was remanded for two weeks. Bail was set at $500.

Carl Anderson of Keswick, charged with careless driving and assault, and whose evidence was given some three weeks ago, appeared for sentence. He had straightened up the damages with the complainant.

"I was satisfied that you were negligent, but I was not sufficiently satisfied to justify a conviction under this section," remarked His Worship. "I am dismissing the careless driving charge. On the charge of assault, I do believe you struck that boy. However, I don't believe there was very much damage done. I am binding you over in the sum of $50, to keep the peace."

The accused paid the court costs which amounted to $11.75. Charges of failing to register in Seibert of the Holland Marsh, in Seibert of the Holland Marsh, were dismissed.

Leslie O'Brien of Canzenovia, New York, charged by Constable Windsor with illegal possession and careless driving, pleaded not guilty.

Fred Williams of Musselman's Lake, a driver for the T. Eaton Company, testified that he was driving around Musselman's Lake, last Sunday afternoon, about 25 miles an hour, on his own side of the road. He came to a sharp turn and met this American car, which was on the wrong side of the road. The accused smashed into him, damaging his car to the extent of $50. "I was as close as I could get to the right edge of the road, when I stopped, and the accused was right in the middle of the road," stated Williams. "He tried to blame it onto me for driving too fast. He said I was out too far on the road. I smell liquor on his breath."

Morley Davis of Ballantrae, who was a passenger in the Williams car, stated that O'Brien was (Continued on Page 8, Col. 5).

CONSTRUCTION IS 2½ DAYS AHEAD SCHEDULE

Four hundred and thirty-five men were on the pay roll at Newmarket's military camp this morning when The Express-Herald paid its weekly visit. Eighty-five per cent. of the buildings are standing, sixty-five per cent. of the tile is laid and the water mains started. Twenty-five per cent. of the plumbing is roughed in, and electrical work is progressing slowly through lack of material. The foundation of the drill hall was laid yesterday. It rides a motorcycle with a sidecar. The gunner in the sidecar uses a Vickers on aircraft mounting. They look for German parachutists.

Uncle Len, I think, is quite a way from here. Please try and find out where he is for me. I am going to see Uncle George soon.

Well, I'll say so long for now. I have to go on parade soon. Please send me some Sweet Caps. I sure would appreciate them. Give my love to Peter and Mom, and Mr. and Mrs. Adams. Tell them I'll send them all a souvenir. So long for now.

As soon as I get leave I am going to see Aunt Mary. We are supposed to get five days' leave soon.

DAVE WHITE WRITES FROM ENGLAND

The following letter has been received by Bill White from his son, Dave, who is now in England with the C.A.S.F.

In Barracks, Somewhere in England, August 15, 1940.

Dear Dad,—

We arrived at Glasgow on the first of August, and we are now stationed in a big military camp. I guess you know where. We had a good crossing, except for the last two days, it was rougher than hell. We had two British battleships all the way across and when we were three days out, we had a convoy of 12 destroyers.

We were lucky, we came over on the Empress of Australia. We made the trip in eight days.

There was a big convoy, about eight ships including the Duchess of York, Monarch of Bermuda,

Antonia, Risluski, Aurania and Batony.

The second night we were here

I was thirty minutes late getting in. I got fourteen days C.B. and fourteen pack-drills. So I'm still

C.B. You have to watch your step because any man who gets more than seven days' detention goes to the glass-house, about 10 miles from here. The scenery around here is beautiful. I never thought England looked like this.

We have had half a dozen air-raid warnings since we got here, but yesterday was the first air-raid we had, and we had two of them. I was on air-raid warden duty. And when they came the second time they dropped some

"eggs" about 200 yards away on our parade ground, but nobody was hurt. I was scared, and I don't mind admitting it. There were eight Heinkel bombers, and they had about 10 spitfires on their tail. Yesterday British airmen brought down 146 Germans. It sounds fantastic, but it's true.

As soon as I get leave I am going to see Aunt Mary. We are supposed to get five days' leave soon.

Jim was up about a week ago.

He is on reconnaissance patrol.

Well, I'll say so long for now.

I have to go on parade soon.

Please send me some Sweet Caps.

I sure would appreciate them.

Give my love to Peter and Mom,

and Mr. and Mrs. Adams. Tell them I'll send them all a souvenir.

So long for now.

GIVE THANKS TO GOD

Britain and the Empire have been at war a year, and if there was any doubt of the outcome then, it has been dispelled by now. Within the year things have happened in the Old Land and here, and while as yet ye haven't hit our full stride, we are fast moving in that direction. With increased aid from the States, the French Colonial Empire and all those multitudes who have been trodden underfoot the next twelve months should see the initiative wrested from Herr Hitler and his allies.

Next Sunday has been set aside as a day of prayer, when the Empire will give thanks to God for his blessings. It behoves us all to attend the services at our respective churches.

BACK AT IT

School's on—not alone for the scholars who have been enjoying the summer vacation period—but for all of us. With the advent of September, business and social life about town takes on a normal aspect, while we endeavour to forget the days of leisure and buckle down to the old grind once more.

The appeal we make is an annual one, and one that is oftentimes overlooked and forgotten by those who are responsible for sending the news of your organization into the press. Again we would ask that the press representatives of various societies get off on the right foot this fall by having the notices in our office in good time.

About 11 o'clock Thursday is the time chosen by the vast majority to call up and inquire if they can get an item in this week's issue. We are indeed pleased to have the activities of town and district reported, but a little consideration would be appreciated.

"TWELVE O'CLOCK, AND ALL'S WELL!"

(From "The Constitution," Atlanta, Ga.)

There must be today, millions of spirits that walk bravely, across the length and breadth of beleaguered Britain. The spirits of those men of the ancient race who gave to her the greatness that is knowing miraculous resurgence as, once more, the fate of human liberty is laid upon her hands and hearts and courage.

It is good to think that, among those spirits, walk the ancient watchmen of the night, carrying their lanterns to light the dark hours and crying, as they walk, "Twelve o'clock and all's well." All's well with Britain, as her sons and daughters stand, undaunted, a final ram-part to the ruthless foe.

All's well because the tongue of Chaucer, of Shakespeare, of Milton, of Keats, of Shelley, of Kipling, of Tennyson, of Barrie, of the King James translation of the Scriptures, can never be the tongue of an enslaved race.

All's well because the blood of Frobisher, of Drake, of Raleigh, of Cromwell, of Wellington, of Nelson, of the millions of fighting men who have died to keep Britain free, can never course through the veins of an enslaved people.

All's well because the passion of human liberty and human rights that inspired the men of Runnymede, that set afame the hearts of men who dared their all that tyranny should be crushed, that forced British democracy ever to march on, side by side and step by step with the growth of empire, can never be quenched under the oppression of any master.

All's well in Britain because the common people are aroused, because from the ordinary, average people, from whom England's greatest have ever come, there still arises that determination, that bulldog stubbornness, that unconquerable spirit which cannot live enslaved.

The wisest sees among men cannot say what yet is to come. But this all men may know: There is a very lovely heart of civilization and of freedom threatened by an obscene force, an indecent return to savagery sparked by unmoral ambition. The shadow today lies over an ancient and a noble land. It darkens the graves of poets and philosophers and martyrs. It hangs, threatening, over the very birthplace of human liberty and human progress.

The vultures soar over England's green fields and stately homes, they swoop upon the humble cottages and quiet hills.

We on this side can know little of the one factor that must, in the final accounting, decide the issue. That is, the spirit of a people awakened and determined. There must be a marvellous story, being told on the pages of history, in Britain today. The spectacle of a people arising as one, to defend to death the land they hold so dear, must be a tremendous thing to watch.

Even Hitler has been awed. What other interpretation can be put upon his petulant and ridiculous complaint that "home guards" can be only violators of the code of war, to be shot against a wall when captured? The world has never witnessed such absurd effrontery as an appeal, by this man, to any code of war. He, and Germany, of all races, have most ruthlessly and heartlessly scorned the codes of war, of honor, of humanity, of human decency, wherever it served their foul purpose.

Hitler cannot conquer Britain. We who know the history and the spirit and the meaning of British civilization, we who know the courage that arms her people, we who know the love of country that fills their souls, know that no invader can stay alive on English soil so long as one Englishman remains alive to strike a blow for freedom.

There can be but one outcome when the British people have arisen, moved by a single impulse, to defend

This royal throne of kings, this sceptred isle,
This earth of majesty, this seat of Mars,
This other Eden, demi-paradise;
This fortress, built by Nature for herself,
Against infection and the hand of war,
This happy breed of men, this little world,
This precious stone set in the silver sea,
Which serves it in the office of a wall
Or as a moat defensive to a house—
Against the envy of less happier lands—
This blessed plot, this earth, this realm,

This England.

The vultures gather, but still the spirit of the ancient watchman walks in England and still his brave voice reassures,

"Twelve o'clock, and all's well!"

NOTE AND COMMENT

Those fifty over-age destroyers will mean a lot to Britain for convoy work—and the Germans very well know it.

This section of York County was again well to the fore with wins at the C.N.E., and the endeavours covered practically every field of endeavour.

There is no doubt that the German army will suffer least from shortage of food. Rations scraped up from all the occupied territories and from what little trade Germany retains will largely go to the fighting forces. Then will come German munitions workers and others serving in vital wartime industries, and after that the German people at large. What is left over—if there is anything—will be doled out for the peoples of occupied territories.—Family Herald and Weekly Star.

"DEATH DRIVERS" TO PERFORM IN TORONTO

"A congress of daring and death cheating" and an educational demonstration of motoring safety is the strange combination which the famous "Bill" Judson and his Death Drivers will bring to the Ulster Stadium in Toronto from September 16 to 21.

Judson's advice to the motoring public is "Be Safe—Drive Safe—Leave Accidents to the Death Drivers," and he and his cast of 90 take their lives in their hands every day to prove that if you are a careless and reckless driver on the highway, you can't win.

The program of the Death Drivers reads like the annual accident list released by the Department of Highways—skids and rolls, one-arm driving, running fight between police and gangsters, driver trapped in blazing car, head-on collision, side swipe, flaming wall crash, death drag, blow out, run-over, flying car and power dive, and the T-bone crash, which Judson calls the "junk-man's delight."

Thirteen of the events in Judson's three-hour show are exclusive with his outfit, and are not performed by any other driving exhibition.

"We will be in Toronto for one full week," stated Judson, "twice daily at Ulster Stadium, rain or shine, from September 16 to 21, and will turn over a portion of our receipts to a war fund so that we may buy more bullets, more shells, more planes, more tanks and more ambulances to halt the march of Hitler and Mussolini and their tyrannical rule."

One rubber company reports that a fast increasing use of rubber is for making sponge rubber kneeing pads used in churches.

Climate conditions in a locality may vary enough from year to year to change somewhat the durability of any particular paint.

FIND TWO BOYS LOST ON LAKE

Reach Michigan Shore in Gale-Swept Launch

Missing four days when their power boat was blown 175 miles off its course in a heavy storm, two boys of the Gore Bay district were located late Thursday at Detour, Mich.

The boys, John Currey of Gore Bay, and William McGehee, left Blind River last Sunday night in their 18-foot cruiser. Engine trouble developed during the storm and the boat drifted 175 miles to Drummond Island.

There the boys obtained another boat and crossed the narrow channel to Detour, where young Currey phoned his father. The boys were hungry and exhausted when their boat grounded on Drummond Island.

The boat was not seriously damaged when it ran aground. The boys walked along the shore until they came to a settlement.

Last week-end the boys went to Blind River and at 7 o'clock Sunday evening they checked out of the hotel there and started back for Gore Bay. Their trip was across fifty miles of stormy channel waters between Manitoulin Island and the mainland.

Two airplanes were engaged early in the week to aid in the search, as well as numerous power-boats.

NEW INDUSTRY IS EXPECTED FOR AURORA

Firm May Occupy Old Fleury-Bissell Plant and Aid Town's Employment Problem

A new industry is expected to locate in Aurora within the near future to help bolster the industrial situation within the town it was revealed at a meeting Friday night in the town hall.

At present Aurora has only one industry that is working at top speed, it being the Sisman leather company. The other plant, the Collis leather, is working part time due to inability to send leather to England. Practically all the firm's business, it was pointed out, was with England.

Mayor J. M. Walton, A. F. Fisher, president of the Board of Trade, and Archie Cousins, reported that they had been negotiating with three firms in an effort to have them locate in town.

It is expected that at least one will take over the old Fleury-Bissell plant. The name of the industry was not divulged.

Lorne G. Lee, town solicitor, was added to the committee of Mayor Walton, Fisher and Cousins to wait upon the government and ask for war orders to assist the employment situation in the town.

Strong exception was taken to trucks and busses parking double on the highway in the business section, causing traffic tie ups and making it dangerous for other traffic. A recommendation will be forwarded to council to appoint four other town employees as temporary police officers to enforce the parking by-law.

*They're So Convenient "SALADA" * TEA BAGS

PAPER BAGS

By Golden Glow

Don't laugh when you read that heading! It surely is an everyday article, a paper bag—a homely, useful convenience that we would find it extremely difficult to have to get along without! I surely think we should pass a vote of thanks to the one who invented the modest paper bag! When I was a very small child I recall how we used to go to the grocery shop for a "cent's worth of sweets," and the man behind the counter would take a little square of white wrapping paper (awfully brittle, as I recall how it used to tear if you even looked at it!), curl it around his hand somehow and make a "Cornucopia," screwing up the point of the cone into a tight little twist, and in that container we were served our candy. But that was so far removed I can scarcely remember the time when paper-bags were not in common use!

I really can't leave that picturesque word "Cornucopia" without adding a little bit on the side for, as you may know by now that I love "picturesque" words, and Cornucopia calls up such a pleasant, delightful picture to one's mind. It signifies the "horn of plenty" in pictures, and especially in ancient sculpture where Ceres, the Goddess of the Harvest, is represented holding a horn of plenty (cornucopia) in her arms, overflowing with flowers and fruit, to denote abundance of the good things of the earth.

I wouldn't mind betting that the first acquaintance of little boys with paper-bags is blowing them up, and then giving them a sharp rap with the closed fist, behind some unsuspecting person's ear and to see them jump at the unexpected bang. However, we live in such a noisy world that nowadays a bang here and there isn't greatly noticed—but it used to be!

A queer thing about a paper-bag is that it is so intriguing that very few can resist the temptation of "taking a peek" to see what goodies it contains! Just watch and see if that isn't so! We carry little fancy biscuits, shortbreads, candy or fruit so often in little paper sacks for children that a paper-bag to the end of their days suggests something good to eat! But, besides goodies, we use paper-bags for thousand and one things—why, we even get plaster and cement in heavy paper-bags, and twenty-four pound sacks of pastry and bread flour.

Long ago at the fall fair you'd see exhibits of various seeds displayed in paper-bags, with the tops rolled down to make a neat little container. Speaking of fall fairs, who would ever have dreamed in the days of our far-famed Agricultural Fall Fairs that our "Show Grounds" would become a military training centre? Where the famous Newmarket horse races were held will now resound to marching feet, our race track. Where the merry-go-round used to deafen us with its incessant steam calliope, will be cook-houses and other buildings—and where we used to sit in the grandstand eating plump purple and green grapes or peanuts, out of paper-bags hauled around all day, and specially to those in the grandstand watching the races and the "show in front of the grandstand," and listening to the famous 48th Highlanders Band under Bandmaster Slater, we will be viewing a vastly different scene to-day.

But can't you recall how delicious those grapes and peanuts tasted, eaten out of little paper-bags? They were part of the annual fall fair! Then, at Toronto Exhibition, they began giving heavy paper bags to folks—and we collected samples as we went round for they used to load you up with all sorts of things in the way of advertisement. In my young days—and that famous paper-bag, with the handles on, was treasured for days after, and the girls who weren't so fortunate as to have secured one were envious of us who had!

Did you ever watch a small boy play he was a soldier with a paper-bag on his head for a helmet and a wooden sword his Daddy made him? It amuses them for hours, and they love to march—but the paper-bag helmet is most necessary—even more than the sword—it seems to make them straighten up and assume a military air. It is all very well to say don't buy boys war-like toys—but difference for they will invent some of their own, even make use of the humble paper-bag!

The house-wife simply couldn't get along without a few nice paper-bags in her daily life. And at camp they are splendid for a great number of things. You can always keep one handy, too, in a motor car to drop scraps in if you are on a long trip and have children who get hungry. You can carry a lunch in the bag, then use the container for a garbage collector, and keep it till you reach a place where it can be disposed of properly, and so help to keep our lovely world a neat and tidy place.

I know of one dear old lady that used to always keep her fur neck-piece in a paper-sack, with a good sprinkling of Cayenne pepper to keep out the moths. Yes, and I well remember hearing the people who sat near her in church, the first Sunday she wore it after taking it out of storage, sneezing their heads off, but they were supremely unconscious of the cause till she gave the secret away herself! She sneezed harder than anybody! — Well, as I said, let's give a vote of thanks to the one who invented paper-bags.

YOUNG OFFICER KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT AT BELHAVEN

Lieut. Thomas Senior, 21, of the Highland Light Infantry, stationed at Stratford, was killed in a motor accident at Belhaven on Lake Simcoe, Saturday night, when the car in which he was a passenger went out of control on a sharp curve. The victim's home is in Toronto.

The accident occurred on the Sutton Road. The car was driven by Lieut. Douglas Harley, of the same unit. Failing to negotiate the sharp curve, the car hit the shoulder of the road, which is lined with boulders. Senior either tried to get out, or the car door flew open, pitching him to the ground, where he was pinned beneath the overturned machine a second later.

The driver escaped injury, but two passengers were slightly injured. They were: Helen Gurney, 32, of 33 Oriole Parkway, head bras; and Ann Crowther, 22, of 235 Lonsdale Road, bruisures.

Lieut. Senior had spent a week taking a course in musketry with his unit at the Long Branch rifle ranges.

"We must not let our missionary work down," he states.

"It is more urgent than ever." He calls on all church people everywhere to observe Sunday, Sept. 8th in accordance with the King's request as a Day of Prayer and to join in public services on that day.

FARM HOME LOOTED WHILE TENANTS OUT

Thieves Steal Varied Household Articles

Included among the loot were two ladies' wrist watches, several articles from a toilet set, table linen, a man's wrist watch, a bedspread, a quilt and numerous other household articles, including a weekend bag.

Mrs. Bellar was away on a picnic, and Mr. Bellar was tending to his farm. Entrance was gained by unlatching a window on the side of the house, it is believed. Sergt. Sidney Barracough and Constable Ron Watt are investigating.

OSCAR L. ANDREWS DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Second Death in Family in Three Months

ARCHBISHOP SUPPORTS HIS MAJESTY'S APPEAL FOR PRAYER

The Most Rev. D. T. Owen, Archbishop of Toronto, and Primate of all Canada, has sent out a message to all the churches in his Diocese dealing with matters relating to the Church and the War. In a bulletin circulated in St. Paul's Church last Sunday the following words from that message are quoted:

"The beloved Motherland is fighting for her life and for the liberty of the world. In this dreadful struggle we are proud to know that Canada and the other overseas dominions are sharing. I am confident that our Church of England people in all our communities are taking, and will continue to take their full part.

Our King has requested that Sunday, September the 8th, be observed as a Day of Prayer. I ask that every man, woman and child join in this solemn act of prayer to God on this Sunday. Wherever possible let each person who owes allegiance to our church join in a public act of prayer.

In addition, I ask that from now on as many as possible attend the special services of intercession which are held in almost every parish in the diocese. Let us 'ask, and seek, and knock.'

Levy of $4 a Year Approved By Council New Fire Chief Appointed.

Harry Jones, for many years assistant fire chief of Aurora, was unanimously appointed chief on Tuesday night by members of the council. Jones succeeds Frank Rowe, who resigned early this year because of ill health.

Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks reported that the town's finances were in good shape, with an increase of $1,732.54 in collection of tax arrears. He also reported that there was a jump of $2,332 in current taxes.

"We are well within our budget," Deputy-Reeve Sparks stated, as he urged council to support a motion transferring $3,000 from the $5,700 credit in the waterworks department to the current funds account. The motion was adopted.

DESCRIBES MOTOR TRIP TO COAST

The following descriptive letter of a motor trip across Canada and the States, to the Pacific coast has been received by Mrs. Ed. Woven from her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Duffield.

Crossed the border via tunnel. Took Michigan Blvd. out of Detroit. Speed limit is supposed to be 15 miles an hour, but everyone drives like mad. The weather is perfect. We have the winter front off the car and aren't using the heater. All our coats are packed in the trunk. Art is driving in his shirt sleeves with the window open. After we left London, Ontario, there was lots of farmers ploughing in the fields. We didn't have any trouble at the customs.

It is just supper time and we are just driving into South Bend, Indiana. We will be in Chicago by dark. So far we are all standing the trip well and intend to keep on driving all night. Gerry was a little upset this morning but slept most of the way to Windsor. As we pass the little lakes and streams you can hear the frogs croaking. As we drove along the St. Joseph River in Indiana there were several people canoeing. We have just shifted our watches back an hour. Cecil is driving now and then I will take it again before it gets too late.

Well, here it is 7 a.m. and we have just stopped for a wash-up. We have driven all night and are outside Des Moines. Art and I have taken a turn driving throughout the night.

We passed the Joliet penitentiary where Leob and Leopold are serving sentences for the murder of that little boy several years ago. We covered a lot of miles last night but there isn't a great deal to tell about it as you can't see so very much in the dark. We crossed the Mississippi River at 3:15 a.m. this morning. South Bend, Indiana is a very pretty city, beautiful homes, and that is where Notre Dame University is. Gerry is fine and slept the whole night through, so he is quite perky this morning. We had to pay 15¢ toll charge to cross the Mississippi River. It is a suspension bridge. Well, I will leave this now and will write some more later.

Have left Iowa now and I never saw so many hogs and so much corn in all my life before. We heard several meadow larks today. The farmers in Iowa plough their land in circles to prevent erosion. The country is rolling with very few trees and it is in its natural state, never having been cleared as there was nothing to clear. We saw two coal mines in Indiana.

I am writing this in Omaha, Nebraska. We just crossed the Mississippi River and had to pay a toll charge of 35 cents. We are sitting in the car on one of the main streets and you never saw so many men with beards in your life, young and old alike. Gosh, they look funny. But Nebraska and Utah are great Mormon states. The big temple is in Salt Lake City, Utah. Have found out that the beards are being grown for a celebration to be held in Omaha commemorating Union Pacific days.

MISSILES FOR HITLER

Shells being tested in a Canadian factory before the application of the copper driving band. Thousands of these are being turned out daily.

Just outside of Omaha we stopped at Boys' Town. Do you remember the movie that was made of Boys' Town with Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney? Nearly all the scenery was shot at the real Boys' Town. It certainly is a grand place. There are about twelve buildings, one just completed, and another is being constructed. There are about 275 boys there. It is built on a big farm and the loveliest barns. You see lots of mules in this part of the country.

We stayed at the Thurston Hotel in Columbus, Nebraska, and all had a good rest.

Harry Simons, the chap who is travelling with us, is very nice.

We left Columbus about 7 a.m. and should reach the mountains to-night. I guess we will drive all night. Had a little trouble with the generator on the car and had to have it fixed in Grand Island, Neb. Were held up for about three hours. We had our dinner in Gothenburg, home of the Pony Express, in an air-conditioned diner and it only cost 20¢ for mine. Had real farmers' sausage, potatoes, beans, roll and butter and tea for 20¢. It was the first tea I have had since we left home. We are driving through the prairies of Nebraska now. It is just as level as the Holland Marsh, only that it stretches as far as the eye can see. You can see Mallard ducks all along the edge of the highway. It is quite marshy. I saw several flocks of wild geese last night, the first I have ever seen.

We have just passed a village that had hundreds of sheep corralled. You see lots of beef cattle ranging. The highway runs parallel with the Union Pacific Railway and in the last half hour we have seen at least half a dozen trains. We have just come through Gothenburg, the home of the original Pony Express. All the stores had false fronts. At Kearny, Neb., we saw a covered wagon with oxen.

We are coming into the ranching country now, rolling hills. We just passed through North Platte and saw Buffalo Bill's ranch. We have changed to Mountain Standard Time. The dandelions are blooming in North Platte.

Have seen thousands of cattle on the range and hundreds of spring calves. I drove from North Platte to Cheyenne, Wyoming, and it was real wheat growing prairie land. The only place you saw trees was near water holes. You could see for twenty miles. As we drove into Wyoming I saw the first mountains. Also saw a freight train with two engines, one at the beginning and one in the middle. We have driven about a hundred miles through desert and barren mountains. All you see is sage brush. Stopped at Green River, Wyoming, for our breakfast. It is a railroad division for the Union Pacific. Just saw a flock of sheep being herded to a water hole, 1800 in number, and two sheep herders and one dog looking after them.

Driving through Wyoming all you could see was sage brush and desert, and several flocks of sheep with sheep herders. We saw several chuckwagons. A man cooks the food right on them for the sheep herders.

As we entered Idaho we came through a mountain pass, up and down a long winding road through lovely green valleys, with lots of long ranching land. I never saw so many lambs and calves in my life.

As we came into Pocatello I saw lots of Indians. We saw a squaw carrying her papoose on her back. Saw a monument erected to the pioneers who lost their lives in the covered wagon days.

We saw the Indian Massacre Rocks. Drove through the largest irrigated district in the U.S. One hundred thousand acres under irrigation. As we came into Twin Falls the trees were all in leaf, blossoms had been out a week and already had 100 degrees in the shade. This is in Idaho. We stopped at a grand place for our supper. They had the swellest cabins. Although they are more like homes. Each one has a bedroom, livingroom, kitchenette and bathroom. All the cabins we have seen west of Nebraska are like the one I have told you about.

We are going to drive all night. I was more tired after we had stopped for a night than I have been when we drove all night. This is all for now, will write more in the morning.

Driving through the mountains of Idaho you hear the coyotes howling. We stopped a few hours at Cladwell, Idaho. That is real cattle country. The remainder of the trip will be through mountainous country. Have seen lots of wild life on this trip, partridge, Hungarian pheasants and two or three different types of rabbits. In Idaho we saw the Indian Massacre Rocks where eleven white men lost their lives at the hands of the Indians.

Driving out of Idaho into Oregon, we came upon a fruit belt. We followed the Smoke River for a good many miles until we came to Baker, elevation of 3435 feet. From here until we come to Washington State we drove through the Rocky Mountains. It was a grand sight, especially when we reached the top as you could see for hundreds of miles.

The mountains are very heavily wooded and I saw my first Douglas Fir. When we came down from the top of those mountains I had a thrill. Talk about switch backs! I think there were about eight in less than five miles.

You could see the Columbia River Valley, which is considered the most fertile farming land in the United States. We followed the Columbia and Yakima Rivers for several miles until we came to the city of Yakima. All the country we drove through along these rivers is fruit and vegetable

SPORTS DAY ENTRIES CUT BY WEATHER

Attendance Suffers at Keswick's First Annual Event—Water Contests Are Popular

Cold, damp weather, with the occasional drizzle, kept attendance at the first annual Keswick sports day down to a minimum. It also caused the postponement of many carded events, due to lack of entries. Only a few hundred of the expected 4,000 visited the park for the numerous events on the large sports program.

Feature of the program, which found instant favor with the crowd that lined the waterfront, was the surf-boat riding event which was won by Victor Hill in the junior section, and Johnny Pringle in the senior. Both these men successfully negotiated the quarter-mile trip across a smooth lake without mishap.

Swimming races also attracted much attention, although it was more like football weather than swimming weather. All swimmers shivered on leaving the water and were anxious to grab extra clothing to keep themselves warm. In the event for girls from eight to twelve, Shirley Fry was first and Gwyn Costan second. In the older girls' class, Eleanor Clark finished well ahead of her two competitors, Elizabeth O'Neil, who just outlasted Bernice Cowie.

Jimmy Kelly finished in first place in the swim for boys up to 12 years of age, with Tom Hill a close second. In the older boys' class, Bruce Williams and Bill Tom battled on even terms for most of the 200-yard trip. Williams forged in front as they reached the finishing line.

In the men's swim, Tom Hamilton, Sr., led Fred McGirl throughout the whole trip, although only inches separated them for most of the journey.

With a trio of hard hitters, Lorneville girls' softball team defeated Agincourt and Newmarket in turn to win a handsome trophy. Coming from behind, Lorneville had little trouble in defeating the Agincourt girls, who fell down badly afield. Many loose balls went for easy hits.

Lorneville then went on to defeat the Newmarket entry, who likewise had a bad night in the field, with many needless miscues adding to their troubles.

The sound of the thresher is heard in the land, and unless all signs fail, there will be an abundant harvest. Surely this winter no child will cry for bread, when there is wheat beyond what can be stored.

On Wednesday of last week Mrs. M. F. Starr celebrated her 83rd birthday. There was a pre-birthday gathering at her home on Sunday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Starr and the Bert Hawtin family of Beaverton extended their good wishes, and on the birthday itself, Miss Hulda Starr, Miss Beth Hawtin, Mr. Francis and Master Stuart Starr took tea with their grandmother.

I don't know why I write of rain—sometimes it just gives me a pain, and yet, sometimes when I look out, I really give a joyful shout to see the dust and grime of days, washed off, as greens come through the greys. But when I look at fields of grain, the cloth of gold of summer's train, and watch the rain come pouring down, it makes you feel that you must frown, for where its golden wigwams flashed, when it had been by rain whips lashed, a sodden, brown replaced the gold and made it look quite bowed and old.

I've seen some curious things in rain—things I'll never see again.

One day I heard the thunder roar and thought of chickens by the score, all small and scattered, far and wide, and thought of ill that might betide. So out I ran to chase them in, but ere I could my task begin, I saw a most amazing sight and wondered if I saw aright.

For, coming from the farther field while lightning flashed and thunder pealed, a strange procession met my view, which now I will describe to you.

An old black hen, in front she walked, and as she walked she talked and talked. Her language though 'twas strange to me, brought fine results, as you shall see, for following closely in her train, and clucking too, with might and main, came all the mother hens and chicks, the latter, struggling on like bricks, and they were tired as they could be, for they were very young, you see. But not a straggler left the ranks, and soon they reached the hen-house planks, and every mother clucked to see that they were safe as safe could be, and my old black hen stood aside, and looked at them with honest pride, and though the rain came fast and thick, we did not lose a single chick, and I am proud with my poor pen, to eulogize my wise black hen.

Mrs. Brown, although completely taken by surprise, expressed her thanks in a very appropriate little speech of thanks.

When, with the other members of their party, Mrs. Gordon and Mr. Orley McClure returned home, they brought with them, along with the memory of the northland, two more tangible mementoes of their trip—a bear skin and a Persian kitten. The bear skin bore mute evidence of Orley's prowess, and the small Persian slept peacefully on Mrs. McClure's knees during the 12-hour journey.

Mrs. D. Evans, Bogartown, spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Miss Doris Wilson, who has been a member of Mr. and Mrs. Needler's family for the past few months, left to take a position at Holt on Wednesday of last week.

The sympathy of this community goes out to Mrs. Morley Andrews of Aurora, who, within the short compass of three months, has been bereaved of husband and only son.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Starr, Miss Hulda and Master Stuart spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hawtin of Beaverton.

Mr. and Mrs. David Coates spent Saturday with their daughter, Mrs. Douglas McClure and Mr. McClure.

Miss Joyce VanLuvan attended a Young People's conference at Apsley on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Madill of Petch's Corners, and Mr. and Mrs. Peterman of Aurora took tea with Mrs. Gordon McClure on Monday evening.

Home Dried Fruit as a Substitute for Candy

A piece of sweet pear, plum or peach dried is good to nibble at, and a good substitute for candy—for adults as well as children, if chewed well.

When sugar is high, and fruit cheap, the drying method has various advantages. Properly dried fruit, if stored in a dry, clean place and kept covered from insects, will keep well and is more easily transported for relief purposes than canned goods.

To dry peaches and plums—wipe fruit and cut in halves and place cup upside down on pie plates or baking sheets. Dry in oven or set on top of kettles when cooking other things—or put over hot air register or radiator.

To dry pears—the skin should be removed. Apples should be peeled and cut into medium sized pieces and these slices laid closely on pan to dry and turned over occasionally.

Corn, cooked enough to set the milk, then cut from cob and spread on buttered pans, may be dried too.

For table use, these dried products should be soaked in cold water several hours, then cooked slowly until tender, then sweetened or salted to taste.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McClure and Miss Joyce VanLuvan dined on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnold, Queensville.

The Misses Frances Stickwood, Dora McClure, Irene Harper, Doris Penrose and Florence Tucker of Toronto, of the Pleasantway Girls' Homemakers' Club, were judging at the C.N.E. on Wednesday. Good for the girls.

Master Allen Gilbert of Stouffville is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Howlett.

And then, another sultry day, when electricity held sway, a mother cat, her baby took into a lilac shaded nook. Its tiny paws could just but crawl, it couldn't run—oh, not at all. Then, thunder rolled and branches crashed, and wild winds howled and hit and smashed, the mother cat gave piercing wails, or maybe they were life-guard nails, for soon to her assistance came, another cat, Tramp was his name, and then, between them, bit by bit, they shouldered in that little kit. And when at last they reached the shed, the mother put the babe to bed, while filled with very well earned pride, Tramp sat him down to guard outside. And both these tales are REALLY true, and show us what the rain can do.

KING CITY

It is the express wish of His Majesty the King, that Sunday, September 8, be observed as a National Day of Prayer. The Christian Church heartily responds and announces its observance in every congregation. Let us make this the first claim of the day, that every citizen of the Empire find his way to the house of prayer and attend public worship.

Let us unite in humble confession and penitence before God for personal and national shortcomings! In intercession for His Majesty, the King, for the nation, its leaders and those who stand in its defence on land, at sea and in the air; in prayer for the triumph of righteousness, freedom and peace, and for all who suffer through the horrors of war; and in solemn and sincere dedication to the fulfilment of the Holy Purpose of God in the nation and the world.

Obituaries

Death came suddenly to Mr. Sidney Douglas, eighth concession, King, early Monday morning, September 2. Mr. Douglas had risen early on an errand, after which he lay down again, succumbing directly to a heart attack. For the past year he has been in poor health, but lately had felt much better. He was able to drive the tractor on Sir Ellsworth's Flavelle's farm. He was in his regular place at New Scotland Sunday school on Sunday afternoon. Deceased was born 51 years ago, in Simcoe County, son of Samuel Douglas.

For 25 years he has resided in King Township. Surviving are his wife, Lyla Carr, and two daughters, Sylvia and Mrs. Bert Ross; two brothers, Fred and Clifford of King, and one sister, Mrs. John Depue of Bradford, also survive. The funeral service took place from the residence on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. F. V. Abbott officiating, and interment in King Cemetery.

The death of Mrs. James Gillies on Thursday, August 29, removes an old resident from our midst. Mrs. Gillies was in her 79th year. She was born in the State of Michigan, and came to Canada as a bride 61 years ago.

For the greater part of that time she has lived on the pioneer Gillies farm. Since Mr. Gillies' death eight years ago, she had spent the winters in Toronto with her son, Ralph, but returned to enjoy the summer in her own home.

German Canadians' Duty Solely To Canada.

Der Courier, German language paper published in Regina, printed on July 31, an editorial on the duty of German Canadians to Canada. Following are translated extracts:

"Canada is at war, and, in this grave and critical time, she demands not only the absolute fidelity of her citizens, but also sacrifice and self-denial. On more than one occasion German-Canadians have shown their loyalty to Canada,—to Canada, which has given them a new existence and a secure future.

"It is a matter of conscience for every single German-Canadian, also in times of war, to do his duty as a citizen fully and completely. Every man and every woman must stand firmly and faithfully behind the Government in this critical time, and conscientiously obey all its orders and decrees. Whoever is not in army service can make himself useful in other ways, and assist the war efforts of the Government. Every single citizen must contribute a part towards the preservation of our freedom, which can only be secured and consolidated anew by winning this war. Handicraftsmen, and there are many learned and clever artisans among the German-Canadians—can be active in the war industry, farmers must remain on the soil indefatigably and produce the necessary food and raw products, even if they have a surplus of wheat at the present time, and so forth. Everyone can, and should buy war savings certificates and war savings stamps, and, in this way, enrich Canada's war chest. After a few years, money loaned to the Government in this way will be received back with interest. Everyone can help in this manner."

MAYOR VOTES TOWN CLERK BOND JUMP

Admits Danger of An Unseating Action Since He Is Also Agent of Insurance Firm Involved

In spite of a warning that he ran a risk of proceedings to unseat him, Mayor J. M. Walton of Aurora, voted Tuesday night to have the fidelity bond covering Town Clerk A. C. A. Willis increased from $5,000 to $10,000.

Under repeated questioning by Councillor Dr. C. A. C. Gunton, Mayor Walton admitted that, as agent for the corporation issuing the bond, he would likely be remunerated for the increased business given to the company.

Thereupon, Dr. Gunton contended that the mayor's action was irregular, and declared that he would lodge a protest against it to-day. Dr. Gunton said he had been in touch with the Department of Municipal Affairs, which had advised him that the head of a municipality should not handle municipal business.

Repeatedly the mayor and Councillor Dr. Gunton clashed verbally and the mayor finally thumped his gavel very loudly several times on the table to silence the councillor.

"Sit down; I don't have to and I won't listen to you," the mayor exclaimed.

"If you sign any cheques, the Lord help you," Councillor Dr. Gunton said as the mayor affixed his signature to the by-law increasing the bond. The by-law was approved by a 5-3 vote.

"What are you, watchdog of the treasury?" the mayor interjected. "We need one badly," the councillor retorted.

Despite statements of the mayor that the auditor and Department of Municipal Affairs had approved the increase in the bond Councillor John Stuart declared that the auditor in his last three reports had said that $5,000 was enough to cover the town clerk.

"This thing was never discussed in council," Councillor Stuart said. "The mayor rushed this bond through without consulting other members of council."

Councillor Gunton asked that the new bond be produced so that council members could see it.

"That can't be done, it is at the bank," the mayor stated.

"The law says that it must be produced," Councillor Stuart countered.

"I have never seen the bond," Councillor Dr. Gunton said.

"Why, you took an hour and a half of my time one day to read it through at the bank," the mayor countered. "In fact, you can go to the bank to-morrow and read the bond as long as you like, I will give you an order."

After much cross-fire conversation between the mayor and Councillors Dr. Gunton and Stuart, the by-law approving the $5,000 increase which was moved by Deputy Reeve C. E. Sparks and seconded by Councillor A. J. G. Wilson, was passed.

After Councillor Gunton had threatened to have him unseated, Mayor Walton replied: "You go ahead. You or anybody else can try and unseat me. I haven't done anything wrong. Other councils have done the same thing."

"It appears as if this thing is developing into a dog fight, let's get this resolution through and passed," Dr. Henderson said.

"This unnecessary discussion is causing our town much publicity,"

PEACHES AND CREAM, A SUMMER TREAT FOR ALL

RECIPES THAT PLEASE THE PALATE

In this suntanned era a peaches and cream complexion may be out of date, but for dessert peaches and cream is still in the upper brackets of popularity.

The peach dish may be served with cream, plain or whipped flavored or made into a sauce or dressing, and sometimes its sour cream that is used. At any time peaches are a special treat, and especially this breakfast cake that's a wonderful change for Sunday breakfast or Sunday tea.

Peach Breakfast Cake Crumb mixture ½ cup brown sugar

1 teaspoon cinnamon

¼ cup chopped nuts

3 tablespoons butter

3 peaches

1½ cups sifted flour

1 teaspoon baking powder

¼ teaspoon soda

¼ teaspoon salt

3 tablespoons sugar

1 egg

2-3 cup sour cream

3 tablespoons shortening (melted)

Sprinkle crumb mixture on bottom of greased 8x8x2 pan; slice peaches over. Sift dry ingredients together. Mix egg, cream and shortening. Combine mixtures quickly; do not beat smooth. Spread batter over peaches. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. This should serve 6 but the four of us finish it up.

Proceeding to Brunch, a popular meal in summertime when the chance for a morning snooze comes often, this dish combines the fruit and main course.

Peaches and Cakes

¾ cup sifted flour

½ tablespoons sugar

¼ teaspoon salt

½ cup milk

2 eggs, slightly beaten

Thinly sliced peaches, sugared Whipped cream

Sift dry ingredients. Mix milk and eggs, and combine mixtures, stirring smooth. Use a frying pan about 7 inches wide. Grease well with butter. Pour enough batter into pan to make a thin layer on bottom. Brown cake quickly on both sides. Carefully remove to hot plate and bake another thin cake. Keep baking cakes and stack with alternate layers of sliced peaches. Make 2 piles of about 6 cakes each. Cut stacks in thirds in pie-shaped wedges and serve with whipped cream.

Here is a delicious "bread" pudding—made mostly of stale cake, cookie or coffee cake crumbs. You could use bread of course, and it's so good it really doesn't need the elegant sauce poured over, except on company occasions.

Peach and Orange Pudding

1 cup sugar

½ cup water

Rind 1 orange

Rind 1 lemon

½ cup orange juice

Stale sweet crumbs

6 to 8 small peaches

Cook, sugar, water and rind until thick. Cool slightly and stir in orange juice. Butter a casserole or 4 large custard cups and cover bottom with crumbs. Cover with a layer of thinly sliced peaches; repeat until dish is filled, ending with crumbs. Pour sweet syrup over, hit with butter. Bake about half an hour in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until top is brown. Four large servings.

Whipped Cream Sauce

1 egg, separated

Few drops almond extract

½ cup heavy cream

3 tablespoons powdered sugar

Beat egg yolk and flavoring until thick; add cream and beat again. Beat in 1½ tablespoons
